Not A Box with Nature Sprouts

A visit to the woods near the campground found Daniela Brehm of the Applegrove Nature School with ten little pre-schoolers, leading them through adventure and play.

The theme was Not A Box, from the book by Antoinette Portis.

"We start the session off in the circle with a story," explains Daniela. Then it's fun time.

Little ones were in boxes, on boxes, playing with paints and having a great time, while parents from Edgewood, Fauquier and Burton watched and got to visit.

New Status

for Burton Historical Cemetery
Members of the Burton Walkway team have successfully made presentation to the Regional District of Central Kootenay (RDCK) to have the Burton Historical Cemetery recognized as a heritage site.

Pursuant to Section 595 of the Local Government Act, the RDCK has provided notice to the Heritage Minister. In addition, the RDCK's Community Heritage Register and RDCK web map have been updated to reflect the addition of the Burton Historical Cemetery.

Congratulations go to Liz Gillis and team.

Important NOTICE on Page 5 regarding a PUBLIC MEETING on Tuesday, September 16, 7pm, at the Hall with CBT about the Burton Community Park Renewal—ALL WELCOME!

The Burton Busy-Beeline publisher gratefully acknowledges living on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territory, on the site of the "xaieken" village, of the Sinixt Peoples, and honours their ongoing presence on the Land.

Buzz Word (Editorial)

I just can't help it. The Buzz Word again is THANK YOU, especially as we celebrate Thanksgiving. We have so much to be thankful for—not just for the food on our tables and the roof over our heads but for the peace that we have, in this wonderful part of the world.

We don't have bombs flying over us and exploding in our streets. We are not surrounded by rubble, and having to migrate to find safety and a space to sleep.

Sunday, September 21, is the UN International Day of Peace (World Peace Day). The theme this year:

Act Now for a Peaceful World.

While war continues in many countries, we can, at this time, call Canada a safe country, a peaceful country, regardless of the many challenging issues involved in maintaining this great nation.

We have food. We have water.

As the children in Burton say in the entrance to their school: Together We Can Fly. Peace be with you.

PS Thanks go to Alice, Margret, Sheena and Trudy for their contribution to the costs of publishing this little paper, and to Brian for picking up supplies.

Harvest Celebration

Fun for all

Brenda Buerge has been very busy – organizing. Instead of a Fall Fair, there is to be a Harvest Celebration at the Burton Community Hall on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 20 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. It's going to be a full day of delicious food and fun, sponsored by the Bee Happy Community Garden and Burton Seniors.

Bee Happy Pop-Up Market

In lieu of a Friday market at the community garden, the Bee Happy gardeners will have fresh local fruit and veggies for sale (by donation) in the Hall from 11 am. (BYOBag)

Harvest Luncheon

The Bee Happy team are providing a tasty lunch made with produce from the garden. Like last year, there will be a variety of soups (served with a bun), and desserts – all locally made. Coffee or tea, soup and dessert are all for the amazingly low price of $10 ($5 for children under 12). Without dessert it's $8, and for dessert only it's $2. The price is right. And all funds raised go towards maintaining the community garden, and buying seeds for next year's crops.

Pie Contest

"This used to be part of the Fall Fair," says Brenda, "and it's my first time at organizing a pie contest. Anybody can enter. Pies must be brought in before 1:30 p.m. at which time mystery judges will be blind-judging."

Scarecrow Contest

Meanwhile, area residents (all ages) are invited to bring along a scarecrow, of any theme. "This idea came about from the Quilting and More group," adds Brenda. "Entries can be brought to the Hall between 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. and people can vote on them throughout the day until 3 p.m. when a winner will be announced."

For info contact Brenda at 265-1174.

My wife told me she was tired of listening to my stupid jokes.

'Why don't you just write a book about them?' she asked.

I told her, 'That's a novel idea!'

Market Success

The Bee Happy Garden Pop-Up Markets have been a huge success this summer. Starting on a whim, and flying by the seat of their pants, organizers and gardeners began harvesting fruit and vegetables from the community garden and from their own gardens. Everything has been by 'donation' with proceeds going towards seeds for next year, and soil enhancements. What deals customers have had! With beets, cucumbers, zucchinis, garlic, carrots, potatoes, herbs, beans etc. and lots of plums and apples! Customers came from the campground, or from passing through on the highway, and from the Burton community. What didn't sell has been placed in the Community

Fridge for the families who are benefitting from the harvest. (See Bouquets) And fruits have been stored ready for use over winter by the community and the school. (See photos)

It's been a LOT of hard work for the gardeners who not only maintain the soils, sow the seeds, and take care of the plants as they grow, they are taking time to harvest. It's been a HUGE undertaking and special thanks go to: Liz, Mary, Margret, Inga, Dawn, Gary, Leanne, Karen, Carol, Jack and Jan, David, Melissa, Denise, Alice, Brenda, and Polly.

The next Market will be at the Burton Hall on September 20 as part of the Harvest Celebration. They will continue on Friday, September 26, October 3 and 10 – at the garden, weather and produce permitting.

Summer at the Campground

It has been a very busy summer. "We've had over 5% increase from last year," says host Sarah Bilo-deau. "There have been many new guests since the new booking system started, and they LOVE Burton. We've had lots of good compliments."

This year a small concession was added that really helped campers, and the big shoppers were local Burton children - a new experience for them.

"The group sites for next year are already booked up to July," adds Sarah.

The campground will be open until the Thanksgiving weekend.

I woke up today with stir-fry all over my bed.
Man--I must have been sleep wokking again.

Bouquets

A bouquet to all those who are dedicating their time as volunteers in Burton - in whatever capacity.

Burton Community Association (BCA)

Burton's volunteer board is back in full swing. They had their first meeting on Monday, September 8, at which the above photo was taken. Meet your board: LtoR – Wanda Buerge, director; Warren Detta, treasurer; Karey Bilodeau, chair; Dan Adshead, vice-chair; and new member David Doncaster, director. Unfortunately, there is no secretary.

Karey will be posting a notice regarding the position which includes taking minutes, correspondence, agenda etc. Karey will also be posting about an upcoming community meeting with CBT (see pg5), and a TBA Harvest Festival pot-luck. Meanwhile, the board could really use some young blood for directors – with new ideas and energy. There can be up to nine board members – so if you would like to join and be part of a new wave moving forward for Burton, do give Karey a call at: 204-923-0026. (This kind of volunteerism always looks good on a resume.)

Board meetings will continue on the first Monday of the month. The next is on October 6, at 6:30 p.m.

I got home from work today to find that my kids had been on eBay all day.
If they are still there tomorrow, I guess I'll have to lower the price.

Rosemary's Ramblings What is a phone?

When putting together the Directory for the Busy-Beeline I have asked for phone numbers. I'm 'old school' where a phone is a tool for speaking to another person.

However, I have sometimes found people reluctant to give out their number. Maybe it's to do with what a phone has become - a person's 'everything,' including banking information, personal data, identity, saved interests, photo gallery, social media, texting, and so much more.

So, I thought to include a little history here. It was 1876 when Alexander Graham Bell demonstrated the first telephone, to speak to another person in a different location. Even as late as 1960 not everyone had a telephone. In England we had the red phone box at the end of the road; in Canada—a party line.

People, businesses and addresses could be found in a phonebook which every phone customer had – published by Bell or in BC, BCTel, then Telus. Phone books were also found in payphone booths, hanging by a chain. The best place to research a distant community was to go and visit the library which usually had copies of phone books for major cities.

Today it is just about impossible to locate a service unless they are listed on internet or have personally handed out, or advertised, their number. So how do you call for an appointment, or product?

A person now has to use their 3x6 (iPhone), be linked up to a radio-wave tower which then sends a signal to a satellite rotating in space around Planet Earth, which then sends a signal to another radio-wave tower, and connects your 'phone.'

But as I said, your 'phone' is now your everything. And strangely enough, people forget they can actually talk on it, not just send text messages or check photos, and social media etc.

Some people still do use a land-line. Like myself. I don't like to be radio-waved-hooked-up-to-a-satellite, on-call 24/7. Funny how we survived without a phone, or with just a call box down the road.

Bits & Bobs (News)

PUBLIC MEETING, Tuesday, Sept. 17, 7 p.m.

At the Burton Community Hall

Everyone is invited to a special meeting with the Columbia Basin Trust (CBT) and BCA to explore improvements to the community park, and build a vision for its future.

The CBT and BCA want to hear ideas from the broader community for this park space, and to find out how the stories and history of this park can be celebrated.

Everyone is encouraged to participate.

Project goals: To update existing facilities and create a multi-generational gathering space and inclusive park that is welcoming to everyone.

For more information call Karey Bilodeau: 204-923-0026.

Wildfire Risk Reduction

Update September: "The contractor is low bedding their equipment to the site. The fire danger is still a 4 in the area, but it is forecasted to go down to a 3 if we get the rain they are calling for. They will wait and see if the rain happens and if fire danger goes down, if it does, they will start up operations September 15, 2025."

Update from BC Hydro re Burton Water

These systems were originally owned and operated by BC Hydro until 2011, when they were formally transferred to the Regional District of Central Kootenay (RDCK) following referendums in each community. Since then, the RDCK has been responsible for setting water rates and managing the systems.

As part of the transfer agreement, BC Hydro upgraded the systems to meet Interior Health Authority standards at the time, and contributed to a capital reserve fund for future upgrades. We also committed to covering water costs for community facilities indefinitely and introduced a "water rate holiday." This means BC Hydro continues to pay water bills—including rate increases—for properties that were connected to the system at the time of the transfer, until those properties change ownership.

We understand that aging infrastructure is creating challenges and leading to higher rates, and we know this is a concern for many residents. While BC Hydro continues to cover a significant portion of these costs through the rate holiday, we're now working with the RDCK to review the situation.

The Burton Website is presently undergoing reconstruction, so information is not up-to-date.

A vulture is checking into an airport to catch a plane. He has a dead skunk tucked under one wing, and a dead possum under the other wing. As he approaches check-in, he is told that he is not allowed to board as he has not followed proper protocol and procedure to be allowed on. He inquires what the problem is, as he has his ticket, his reservation number and he arrived in plenty of time.

The check-in person replied, 'What you say is true—you have followed all the rules but one. Surely you must be aware that each passenger is allowed only one carrion!'

Texas Hold'em Poker Night

The Burton Volunteer Fire Brigade is bringing out the cards and chips for their next fundraising event—the Texas Hold'em Poker Tournament at the Hall on Saturday Oct 11, at 6 pm.

$50 gets each player poker chips and $10 bounty chip. And there will be a 50/50.draw. Refreshments include hot dogs/smokies with pop/water, chips & candy bar.

For details, to reserve a seat, and if you are interested in helping out (e.g. kitchen), please contact Brian at 250-265-3492 or e-mail harropbrian9@gmail.com.

A different drummer

Why should we be in such desperate haste to succeed, and in such desperate enterprises?

If a person does not keep pace with their companions, perhaps it is because they hear a different drummer.

Let them step to the music which they hear, however measured or far away.

Two outdoor courts are available beside the Burton Ballpark for use when the weather is fine - on Mondays and Wednesdays (at 9 am), and in the school gym (at 3:45 pm) when the weather is inclement.

All ages and skill levels, including beginners, are very welcome to come and give the game a try. There are loaner paddles if you don't have your own equipment.

Luckily it turned out to just be tissue damage.

Smile of the Month—

Karey Bilodeau

"I want young people to look forward with positivity," says Karey Bilodeau. "And I'm trying to find ways to get the community back together—all ages."

To do this Karey has taken on the challenging task of chairing the Burton Community Association (BCA) and bearing the responsibilities that come with taking care of the Community Hall, ballfield, park, campground, and the welfare of the community.

"I was born in Edmonton and raised in Sexsmith. After high school I went to the Northern Alberta Institute for motorcycle and marine mechanics."

Karey progressed to automotive mechanics and in 2003 he went on to a large mining company where he receive his heavy duty mechanics ticket. This led him to being a master mechanic on several different mine sites in BC, the Yukon and Saskatchewan. He also holds three different Mine Rescue certificates and while in the Yukon he was with Search and Road Rescue.

But how did he end up in Burton?

"We had been in Kamloops for 17 years and wanted to move out of the city. We took a map, put our hands together, and chose Burton. We bought property in 2018 and have the Burton Berry Berry Farm."

However, life took a big detour in January of 2024 when Karey had a back injury. With surgery in June of this year, he is on the road to recovery, but it will be a while yet before he can fully return to his work. Meanwhile, wife Sarah and the family have taken on the huge task of running the Burton Heritage Campground. They are very proud of their accomplishments and upgrades. Karey has hopes for the future, and for Burton, and it shows in his smile. Thank you Karey and family for all you do.
